

A perspective line drawing of a single-story house. The house has a gabled roof with a textured, shingled appearance. The exterior walls are covered in horizontal siding. On the left side, there is a front door with a small transom window. Along the right side of the house, there are six windows of varying sizes, some with small flower boxes or planters underneath them. The house is shown from a low angle, emphasizing its profile.

An architectural line drawing of a single-story house. The house features a gabled roof with a textured, shingled appearance. The exterior walls are covered in horizontal siding. On the left side, there is a large double window. In the center, there is a small front porch with a single door. To the right of the porch, there are two smaller square windows. The house has a simple, clean design with a white base and a dark roofline.

The floor plan shows a rectangular apartment layout. On the left side, there are two bedrooms (Værelse) at the top, each 9.8 m², and a bathroom (Bad) at the bottom, 5.1 m². Between the bedrooms is an entrance (Entre) of 8.3 m². To the right of the entrance is a kitchen/dining area (Køkken/alrum) of 24.6 m², which includes an oven (Ovn) and a sink (Opv.). Further right is a large living room (Stue) of 23.6 m². At the bottom left is a kitchenette (Bryggers) of 5.5 m² with a sink (VVS.), faucet (FJ.), and electrical outlets (EL, VM, TT). To the right of the kitchenette is a bedroom (Kontor) of 7.1 m². At the bottom right is another bedroom (Soveværelse) of 13.5 m² and a bathroom (Bad) of 7.5 m². A north arrow points upwards, and the dimensions 851 and 1721 are indicated on the left and bottom edges respectively.
