

This architectural drawing shows the front elevation of a single-story house. The house features a gabled roof on the left side and a lower, hipped roof on the right side. The exterior walls are finished with horizontal siding. On the left, there is a small vertical window and a larger double door. The central entrance is marked by a large, multi-paned window above a double door. To the right of the entrance, there are two small, square windows. The house is shown from a perspective view, highlighting its three-dimensional form.
